Special Interest Software Picks in This Month's Update

The rapidly approaching tax season got you down? There's still time to get your act together — March's Top Software Picks on page 12 highlight the fine tax programs available in CIN's Applications Support Group. Use them to track expenses or organize your tax records!

On page 7 of this month's Update, you'll find a list of the Learning Center's top educational software picks, chosen by CALC PRG, coordinator for the Learning Center's Parent-Teacher Information Exchange (PTIX).

And in the Guest Column on page 14, Music Room enthusiast "Eric" describes some of the music files you can download in CIN's Music Room Support Group and recommends three programs to get you started making music with your Commodore. We give you more reasons than ever to download public domain software available on Q-Link*!

Chinese Checkers Joins Q-Link's Game Line-Up

The number of online games you can play on Q-Link just jumped to twelve, with the introduction of Chinese Checkers!

The traditional favorite bowed on Q-Link last month, and can be played by two to six players at the same time. Line up your colored marbles in one point of the six-pointed star — then, move your marbles across the board the same way you would in regular checkers. The first player to move all their marbles to a different point wins the game!

Q-Link sets up the board for you, and allows you to move or jump other players in any direction that follows the lines on the board. But don't try to cheat! In addition to keeping track of whose turn it is, Q-Link calls you on any illegal moves you attempt.

It's easy to add Chinese checkers to your playing options — complete instructions are available in Just For Fun's Gaming Connection and the Customer Service Center's Members' Online Guide. Be the first of your Q-Link friends to experience the free-wheeling fun of Chinese Checkers!!

VIQ Of the Month: Janet Kolar (JanetK3)

March's VIQ of the Month, Janet Kolar of Chicago, Illinois, has a special place in her heart for Q-Link — that's how she met her boyfriend, Warren Totten (Limyn)!

Janet celebrated her second anniversary on Q-Link in February, and has friends all over the country that she met through Q. She's visited several of them in person, meeting them at airports during layovers while traveling, or trekking out to O'Hare to see them when they pass through town. Janet's and her best friend, "Myalia," have visited each other on vacation.

One place you'll find Janet online is the Casino, where she's won Q-Link merchandise and Q-Pons by triumphing in Casino contests and tournaments. She also enjoys Q-Link's online games, and will probably be one of the first to master Chinese Checkers (if she hasn't already).

And Janet's really found more to do on Q — she just moved to California to be closer to Limyn! If you see JanetK3 online, say hello and congratulate her — she's our VIQ of the month!

Dear Update:

Just wanted to let you know that the first week of March, 1989, the 100th episode of T.H.E. FOX, Joe Ekaitis's weekly electronic comic strip, will appear on Q-Link!

The second anniversary of the strip will take place the first week of April. Hope it's not too late for a mention in the March issue of the Update — what fun is a birthday party if no one knows about it?

See you in the funnies!

THE FOX,
Pittsburgh, PA

Consider your comic strip mentioned, FOX! Q-Link members can find T.H.E. FOX cartoons online in Commodore Information Network/Computing Support Groups/Graphics/Software Libraries/Picture Perfect. You'll need filename "DKCOMPRESS" by SysOp PH to view the cartoons — download the complete FOX collection to keep for your very own!

Dear Update:

I've been trying to get into the VIQ Club that you wrote about in the February Update. Whenever I try to enter it, I get a message saying it's a private area. What's the story?

OverIt,
Evanston, IL

The story, Over, is that you have to be a VIQ to get in — it's a "members only" club for our frequent users and contest winners. You need to have at least 50,000 unspent Q-Pons on account to achieve VIQ status (once you're a VIQ, you can spend those Q-Pons — your membership is secure even if your total dips under 50,000). You'll receive E-Mail confirming your VIQ status, and only then will you be eligible for the special VIQ perks — the VIQ Customer Relations Representative, your VIQ polo shirt, and access to the the private VIQ Club in Just For Fun's QSociety, with previews of upcoming services and the VIQ Lounge. If you're not a VIQ already, start entering those online contests so you can build up that Q-Pon balance and join the VIQ ranks!

To send a Letter to the Editor, go to the Customer Service Center's Members' Online Guide, enter the Update area, and choose the Post a Letter to the Editor option. Due to the volume of mail received, the Editor can answer only letters dealing directly with the content of the Update.

Commodore Software Showcase

Q-Link members cast more than 10,000 votes this winter in our third annual People's Choice Awards, a yearly compilation of your favorite commercial software products.

Berkeley Softworks won three awards, including Best Utility Program for GEOS 2.0, the updated version of its original desktop publishing environment package. Berkeley's geoPaint (Best Graphics Software) was the only winning program that also made last year's list, though Electronic Arts once again swept Best Adventure and Arcade categories and MicroProse won for Best Simulation, as it did last year. This year's Best Educational Program, Where in the USA is Carmen Sandiego, is a new challenge based on last year's educational victor, Where in the World is Carmen Sandiego.

People's Choice Award voting was open to all Q-Link members and closed January 13. Publisher representatives attended a glittering awards ceremony on January 19 in the People Connection Auditorium, where they came to pick up their awards and thank you for your support.

The People's Choice Awards are your opportunity to thank the publishers who provide Q-Link with excellent commercial software support in the Commodore Software Showcase. We are pleased to announce the winners!

Learning Center

Human Sexuality Area To Debut Live Self-Help Forums

Howard and Martha Lewis, creators of Q-Link's Human Sexuality area in the Learning Center, expand the focus of the area this spring with "Human Support Groups," self-help areas designed to provide members with practical advice and support from their peers — and experts — concerning interpersonal, emotional and sex-related issues.

Several self-help areas will debut in the coming months, based on an online survey conducted in January. Q-Link members were asked about their needs and asked to vote for the groups they would like to see most.

A variety of experts and specially instructed Q-Link leaders are being trained to facilitate interaction between group members with similar interests.

Human Sexuality Revisited

The Lewises' Human Sexuality area first appeared in the Learning Center in August, providing members with confidential, up-to-date answers to their most personal questions. Howard and Martha, who have written ten books dealing with medical and sex-related issues, consult more than 30 contributing experts to gather advice for their feature articles online and to answer questions for Q-Link members.

You can post your questions on the Human Sexuality Hotline, located on Human Sexuality's main menu. The Lewises will research your question and respond in their What's New section with your identity, of course, removed.

You can find more information about a variety of subjects in the Questions and Answers area of Human Sexuality. Hundreds of questions answered by the Lewises are divided into separate topics areas, which include Family Planning, Happier Couples, Mainly About Men, and Women's Center.

Interactive Support Groups Offer Answers, Reassurance

Howard and Martha are excited about the opportunity to expand the Human Sexuality area to include self-help groups. The groups provide a forum for members to share feelings and experiences and provide one another with assistance and encouragement. "The groups can't substitute for psychotherapy," says Martha, "but they can help members develop friendships, grow emotionally, and solve many personal problems."

Self-help group areas include a message board for discussion of members' problems, a conference room for forums and group meetings, and a library where pertinent articles and previous discussions are archived. Members may freely discuss feelings and relationships at group meetings, and commit themselves to a code of conduct which calls for honesty, respect and confidentiality.

SPRING 89 COURSE CATALOG

Spring Into The New Term At the Q-Link Community College

Registration Opens March 17

Spring is a time for new beginnings, and you can start fresh and pursue your scholastic interests in the Learning Center's Q-Link Community College. A new series of classes begins April 1st!

This term you can choose from a variety of challenging, informative courses, including four never-before offered classes in subjects ranging from programming languages to basic nursing.

Find Out More About "Our Earth"

The sorry state of natural science and geography knowledge among U.S. citizens has been an ongoing concern in this country — QCC's new "Our Earth" course tackles geological topics ranging from the Earth's continuing motion to how landscapes like the Grand Canyon and Rocky Mountains were formed. "Geography," which debuted in the General Studies department last term, explores how geography has played a major role in human behavior and culture in history.

Each course meets regularly online, and homework assignments and course materials can be downloaded for you to use at your convenience. You'll find course descriptions, including last-minute additions or changes to the schedule, in QCC's Information Center. If you have further questions about a specific course, please E-Mail the instructor listed with the course description below. Questions about QCC Registration in general may be addressed to the QCC Registrar (screen name: QCC REG).

There is a non-refundable $15 fee for each course. Registration opens Friday, March 17, and classes begin April 1, 1989! To sign up, go to the QCC Registration area found on QCC's main menu in the Learning Center.

Class sizes are limited, so don't be an April Fool — spring into spring and sign up soon!

Hit A Grand Slam With Your Own Grandstand Fantasy Baseball Team

The thrill of league competition, dirt on your cleats, and the fans roaring from the stands — you can enjoy the vicarious thrill of baseball rivalry, without getting dirt on your uniform, by organizing and managing your own team of sluggers in the Grandstand Fantasy Baseball League!

The GFBL lets you become owner and general manager of your very own major-league baseball team. During the course of the season, you'll draft players, make trades and free agent moves from the rosters of the actual National and American league teams.

As the baseball season progresses, your team's statistics will be tallied based on the real life performances of the players you choose. Your players' actual major league statistics are used.

Using this method, teams in each league will establish records and the competition will warm up with the weather. If your team finishes first in your division, you'll receive a trophy and Q-Pons to redeem for Plus hours in The Winner's Circle!

Team managers will meet weekly throughout the season to check the stats and standings compiled by The GrandstandSM. You'll find last year's player stats online to help you assemble a winning line-up.

How to Start Your Own Team

You can get all the information you need to start and manage your own team at the GFBL organizational meeting on March 5 at 9 p.m. To register for your GFBL franchise, you'll need to follow the instructions in the How to Enter section in the GFBL area of The Grandstand Dugout.

For more information, check out The Grandstand's baseball information center or E-Mail "GFBL" and let them know you're interested.

The book, "Rotisserie League Baseball", by Glen Wagoner, includes an overview of the rules and player info you'll need to make the most of your team (check the GFBL area for ordering information or ask for it at your local bookstore). The leagues are limited to 100 teams, so dust off your cap and chewing tobacco and sign up now!

You can get all the information you need to start and manage your own team at the GFBL organizational meeting on March 5 at 9 p.m.

The season gets underway starting Sunday, March 5 at 9 p.m. in the People Connection Auditorium, where there will be an organizational meeting for Q-Linkers who want to manage a GFBL team of their own.

RJC's Second Anniversary Makes the Casino the Hopp'ning Place to Be in April

Happy Anniversary, RabbitJack! Q-Link's dapper bunny host marks two years of hopping casino action on April 1, and he's planned all sorts of special events during the month-long celebration!

It all starts with a big surprise on April 1 — watch the Rabbit Tracks message board in Just For Fun's Casino Club for an announcement. The bunnies will also be jumping in the Slots area during the month of April — if you happen to see one escape, E-Mail RabbitJack and tell him when and where you saw it run off the slots reel. You'll automatically win a deck of Casino playing cards and a chance at a great mystery prize!

And as part of the special anniversary celebration, look for another great competition — every Sunday at 7 p.m. EST until 10 p.m., join us for an All-Games Tournament! And if that isn't enough, payoffs at all the regularly scheduled events like Insomniac Bingo will be double the usual during the anniversary month! That gives you an even better chance at becoming a Casino Millionaire! Stop by the Casino for a month-long party in RabbitJack's honor, and good luck!

(People Connection/Play or Observe an Online Game/Start a Game/RabbitJack's Casino)

Casino Nights Friday March 3rd, April 7th

In addition to all the events planned for the anniversary celebration, you can still join RabbitJack on Friday, March 3 and Friday, April 7 at 9 p.m. in People Connection's Auditorium to kick off the monthly Casino Nights! He'll answer your questions about Casino action and the Millionaire$ Club. Then, join RJ and all the QRJs in the Casino for two hours of non-stop special games. The action really catches fire during Casino Night celebrations every month — don't try to beat the heat, join the fun!

(People Connection/Auditorium)

Payoffs at all the regularly scheduled events like Insomniac Bingo will be double the usual during the anniversary month!

Commodore Information Network

CIN Offers “Computer-Ease” in Your Special Interest Area

There's no faster or friendlier way to master your special computing interest than by joining a Commodore Information Network (CIN) Computing or Hardware Support Group. Hooking into a CIN Support Group puts you in touch with experts in your area of interest and lets you exchange hints and tips with other Q-Link members who share your enthusiasm for music (see page 14), games or productivity software.

“Our mission in CIN is to fulfill the promise of computer ads, helping people to use their machines to maximum potential” says CIN Producer Paul Gemhardt, who has developed and managed the area for 3 1/2 years with the invaluable help of his Support Group SysOps. Their hard work has really been paying off lately — CIN is now the fastest-growing area of Q-Link! And the new strength of the area means more special events, download libraries, and activities that will help you get involved and get more from your Commodore.

Don't Be Shy — Just Drop By!

Some people, because of their limited computer knowledge, might be intimidated to enter a Support Group, but Paul says that's the best reason in the world to get involved — “After all, the groups are designed to benefit everyone and the beginners have the most to gain from participating.”

In most groups, you'll find a good mix of novices who are just starting out and experts who have been at it for years. Enhance your computing skills by using Support Group resources and benefiting from feedback of other participants.

Each Support Group also has a library of valuable software programs that you can download and use to build your home software library. If you have trouble using a program, you can get advice on loading and running it from other group members or by checking out the Support Group message boards.

Each group also meets regularly online for conferences featuring a variety of topics and guest speakers, and informal chat rooms in some groups meet nearly every day. Special events you'll want to note and attend in March and April include:

The First Annual Pixie Awards, Wednesday, March 29 at 9 p.m. in the People Connection Auditorium. The Graphics Support Group presents its awards for the finest achievements in computer graphics artwork and programming, based on popularity (most downloads in the shortest time) and the expert opinions of a distinguished panel of guest judges. Categories include Best Utility, Most Original Artwork, Best Use of the Medium, and Best Overall. First Prize Winners in each category will receive 50,000 Q-Pons toward a great prize in The Winner's Circle and a “Pixie Plaque;” there are second- and third- place prizes as well. Come see who will triumph in this graphics competition!

Game World Seminar - Playing the Game "Wizardry."

Starting Wednesday, March 1 at 7:30 p.m. (with sessions repeated Sundays at 4 p.m. in the Game World Conference Room. This five-part "Dungeon Survival Course" will help beginning and intermediate game players sharpen their skills or master the hows of playing popular mapping/"hack & slash" dungeon games. Training will include combat skills, using magic effectively, and making the most of objects you find. Learn while you play!

The Spring Holiday Music Library, debuting March 1 in the Music Room Support Group. This seasonal music library gathers together the best music files of St. Patrick's Day, Easter, and spring in one central location for easy downloading. You'll also find these songs in Just For Fun's special holiday libraries. Play these tunes and get in a springtime mood!

Machine Language Monitor Month, starting March 31 in CIN's Programmers' Workshop. Yes, believe it or not, April is "Machine Language Monitor Month," and the Programmers' Workshop Support Group is making the ML Monitor the focus of all its events and contests. The most important ML programming tool, the ML Monitor programs allow you to utilize a screen display to talk to and program your machine.

For the first time, the Programmers' Workshop will offer a "Monitor Download Special," which combines many of the best monitor programs into a single file for easy downloading. Workshop conferences will cover the features of some of the more popular monitors, and the Programmers' Challenge will involve monitor use. Whether you're a fledgling or expert programmer, you'll want to get involved!

Isn't it time you really start making the most of your Commodore? The Commodore Information Network's Computing and Hardware Support Groups can help you start using your computer the way it was meant to be — to make your life easier and more interesting!

Learn to Mix "Online Drinks" at P.C. Studio's Bartender's Academy!

By Miss Jules

Would you rather be behind the bar instead of belying up to it? Then bring your swizzle sticks and enroll in Q-Link's exclusive Online Bartender's Academy, located in Just For Fun's P.C. Studio!

Throughout the month of March, the Academy will feature mixology classes taught by our Tending Professors, "Jerry71" of JD's Slow Bar, "Tammiey" of Tammiey's Tavern, "Kool Katt" of KK's Korner Bar, and "Daffly D" of Daffly's Diner. The professors plan intense classes in special People Connection rooms to transform you into a Certified Online Mixologist!

Register at the Academy to find out all the tricks of the online bartending trade. Our Professors will teach you not only how to "mix" their special drinks, they'll tell you all about bartending etiquette, proper bar lingo, and how to open your own Q-Link bar. For specific class dates, times, and curriculum, check out the Class Curriculum message board in the Academy in P.C. Studio.

While you're attending classes, be sure to share your new expertise and post your plans to open your own People Connection bar on the Student Notes board in the Academy. After you get some on-the-job training and graduate, you can be your own boss! For those who don't want the responsibility of being self-employed, a job referral service is also available to those who successfully complete the course.

Once you complete your studies, get ready for the Bartender Academy Awards at 9 p.m. on Tuesday, March 28 in the People Connection Auditorium, where students who successfully pass the "Bar Exam" will be awarded a special Academy diploma verifying their Certified Online Mixologist status. Top bartending students will also receive a copy of "Mr. Boston's Micro Bartending Guide" software!

Then show off your newly-acquired bartending skills and enter the Best Drink Contest! It's easy to do — just post your recipe for a delicious new beverage that any bartender would be proud to serve. Academy judges will sample all entries, then select the top three beverages! First-place winner will receive three free Plus hours; second-place victor will get two free Plus hours; and third-place winner will be awarded one free Plus hour!

Get in on the fun and become a Certified Online Mixologist!

Don't Miss the Premiere of Q-Link's "MADvertising"

Do you know what product is "Good to the Last Drop"? What oil company used to promise a "Tiger in Your Tank"? What product was advertised as "99 44/100 Pure"?

If you're an advertising slogan whiz and know the answers to these questions, plan to attend the premiere of Q-Link's latest game show, "MADvertising"! It debuts in the PC Auditorium at 10 p.m. on Sunday, March 26. It's the game where everyone in the audience is a contestant!

Be the first member in the audience to correctly guess the product that matches the slogan, and you'll earn one point. To make a guess, just use the Ask A Question option on the Auditorium's main menu.

The person who scores the most points by the end of the show will win fun and exciting prizes in the Winner's Circle! But remember, you've got to play to win!

And of course, the answer to the questions above are Maxwell House Coffee, Esso gasoline, and Ivory soap.

Guest Column

A SID and MIDI Enthusiast Invites You to the Music Room

by Eric McCormick

Eric McCormick first signed on to Q-Link as one of our early members in May, 1986, and served as a QGuide, game show emcee, and Programmers' Workshop SysOp before joining our in-house Engineering staff. He was part of the recent team effort to make "Boxes" and "Quad 64" available online.

"Eric," as he's known on Q-Link, also plays keyboards and percussion and is active in the Music Room Support Group, where you can find dozens of his musical compositions in the group's Software Libraries. Below, he offers you a brief tour of the Music Room.

If you have an interest in listening to or creating music, then Q-Link's Music Room is for you! It's located in the Computing Support Groups area of the Commodore Information Network. Whether you're just starting in music, or are a professional musician (or anywhere in between), The Music Room has something to offer you.

The Music Room libraries boast over 9,000 files, which include songs (from classical to rock), music utilities, sound effects and digitized sounds — one of the largest collections anywhere! The libraries are organized into two areas to make finding files easier: "SID and related utilities" and "MIDI/General and related utilities."

SID and MIDI? "SID" stands for "Sound Interface Device," and involves making music using the SID Chip in your Commodore 64 or 128. The "MIDI" section deals with using your computer to control other music-making equipment such as digital synthesizers and drum machines through MIDI (Musical Instrument Digital Interface). The MIDI section also contains "original format" files that require no special equipment to play — just download and listen!

If you have trouble locating a music file you've heard about, you can refer to the Public Domain Software Guide that you can order in The Mall, or feel free to ask one of the Music Room SysOps on the Music Room's message boards.

The Music Room Staff is always eager to help you with your questions. SYSOP JON and SYSOP SIDs manage the part of the Music Room related to making SID music on your Commodore computer, and SYSOP MIDI and SYSOP Keys handle the MIDI area.

Probably the most popular form of music for the 64/128 is the "SIDPlayer Music." There are a variety of SIDPlayer music programs you can use to play these files, including the "StereoPlayer" series by Mark Dickenson, available in the SID Music Libraries Utilities area. You can also play SID music on your synthesizers through MIDI by using "MidiPlay2" by Eric McCormick (that's me!) or "Midip-layer" by Craig Chamberlain, both in the Utilities area of the MIDI/General libraries.

If you want to try your hand at creating your own SID music, you'll need the SID Editor available from Compute! Books. You can order it from The Music Room's Music Store, which also stocks T-shirts, books, and everything you need to get started in MIDI.

It's easy to get going with SID and MIDI — the Messages and Articles section of the Music Room provides a wealth of information for musicians, ranging from creating music using MIDI to adding another SID chip for stereo sound.

Each night the Music Room opens "The Music Studio," a lively conference area where you can chat about music, get help with SID or MIDI, and meet the Music Room's SysOps and hosts. The Studio is open nightly from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. (Eastern time), offering a general SID discussion from 10 to 12:30, then switching to MIDI until 2. Won't you join us tonight in The Music Studio?

INTRODUCING TRAVELERS ACCESS NOW

Guaranteed low prices and cash bonuses...
every time you travel!

Special Introductory Offer

3 Months for $1

Sign on or call:

AVAILABLE THROUGH EAASY SABRE™

Professional service and guaranteed savings!

As a Travelers Access member, you have your choice of major airlines, hotels, car rentals, and more, at the best prices—guaranteed—or we'll refund the difference. Online and offline, you always get the highest quality travel services, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. And, unlike most travel agencies, our service doesn't stop once you've paid for your tickets. We're there to help you with any unexpected changes during your trip—right up until you return home.

Earn a cash bonus for every trip.

You'll even receive a 5% cash bonus on every trip you purchase through EAASY SABRE as a Travelers Access member—hotels, motels, condo vacations, car rentals, airline tickets, cruises, vacation packages . . . you name it. This savings alone can more than pay for your membership fee. It's simple to get your cash bonus, too. Just send us your travel receipts when you return from your trip, and we'll send you a check in the mail within 10 days.

Save up to 65% on Short Notice Vacations.

If you can travel with 2-8 weeks' notice, you can save 20% to 65% off regular prices with Travelers Access Short Notice Vacations . . . PLUS, you still receive a 5% cash bonus—making these truly outstanding deals.

Get 10%, 20%, even 50% off regular prices with members-only Travel Club Specials.

With limited-time Travel Club Specials, you'll enjoy giant savings on selected hotels, airfares, tour packages, cruises, and car rentals. Travelers Access' tremendous buying power makes it possible to negotiate exclusive discounts and have those savings passed on to you.

Big savings on cruises, tour packages, and condo vacations.

In addition to the great bargains you get on airline, car rental, and hotel reservations, you have online access to cruises at big discounts . . . hundreds of resort condominiums to choose from for as little as $7 per day, per person . . . and terrific savings on weekend and week-long vacation packages, too.

Money-back guarantee.

It's simple. You must be completely satisfied or your membership fee will be refunded IN FULL. You have nothing to lose and much to gain (and save!), so sign on today!

Enroll now!

Sign on today through PCLink and EAASY SABRE to have full membership privileges for 3 months for just $1. Then, unless you notify us, we will continue your membership for one year at the low annual fee of $39. Unless you cancel, your membership will be renewed annually at the then current membership fee. Just follow these 5 easy steps to enroll:

1. Select EAASY SABRE from the PCLink Menu.
2. Select #5 from the Main Menu and complete the online application to use EAASY SABRE.
3. Select "Travel Club" from the EAASY SABRE menu and enter your AAdvantage® number and password.
4. Select "Enrollment Application" from the Travelers Access menu.
5. Confirm or correct the profile information displayed.
